

2-27-1914

Letter from Louise Dill, 1914-02-27, Shelburne, N.H., to Anne Whitney, Boston, Mass.

Louise Dill

Wellesley College Archives

Follow this and additional works at: https://repository.wellesley.edu/whitney_correspondence

Recommended Citation

Dill, Louise and Wellesley College Archives, "Letter from Louise Dill, 1914-02-27, Shelburne, N.H., to Anne Whitney, Boston, Mass." (1914). Papers of Anne Whitney (MSS.4): Correspondence. 1562. https://repository.wellesley.edu/whitney_correspondence/1562

This Correspondence is brought to you for free and open access by the Papers of Anne Whitney (MSS.4) at Wellesley College Digital Scholarship and Archive. It has been accepted for inclusion in Papers of Anne Whitney (MSS.4): Correspondence by an authorized administrator of Wellesley College Digital Scholarship and Archive. For more information, please contact ir@wellesley.edu.

Louise Dill

702

Miss Whitney
The Charles G.
Boston Mass

Shelburne N. H.
February 27-1874

Dear Miss Whitney

Your letter received and as you said this would seem to have groom full of trouble, yet for in the neighborhood there has been four very good horses die wathing - a short time and one of them is sure "Sam Horse, the only thing we had that was worth a little money. When William
- got up Thursday at 4 o'clock the food them he found that he was very sick he did all he could until the Veterinary came and told him that nothing could be done for him, that the horse had Gastric interjection it is all very sad for us for we can not see our way to by another one and we will have to live our farm for no body can get along on a big farm like this with one horse unless you would by another and then we must stay. another series we have no money to by one.

I hope that the spring one will give you back your good old strick back again, today the rain is warm and look as if we will have better weather then we have had. Please give my regard to Mrs Dargis & Alf.

Hope to hear from you soon your truly Louis Dill